Execution of Mary McGlew's Murder at Indianapolis To-day.

The Criminal Meets His Fate With Astonishing Nerve.

He Reads His Farewell to the Crowd From Manuscript.

Smiling and Nodding to the Spectators in the Last Moments.

Sketch of the Criminal and History of the Crime.

THE EXECUTION.

[Special Telegram to the SENTINEL.] Indianapolis, Sept. 19.—Louis Guetig died on the gallows at noon for the murder of Mary McGlew one year ago to-day. During the night at times he was restless, but at 2 o'clock in the morning he threw off his nervousness, went to sleep, and slept till day.

At 10 o'clock his spiritual adviser went to his cell, and counselled with him, praying for his soul. At ten minutes before noon in company with his spiritual adviser, the sheriff and deputy and his brother George from Louisville he ascended the scaffold in a careless and indifferent manner. Arising from prayer he stepped to the front, listened to the reading of the death warrant with great coolness, and to the question, "Have you anything to say before the execution?" drew from his pocket a manuscript and in a voice that would have done credit to a public speaker read a farewell declaring himself ready to die, after begging forgiveness from friends and foes. At noon the cap was drawn over his head and in sixteen minutes he was in eternity. He bid his friends a cordial good bye, shaking hands with many. He was dressed in a neat suit of black, with slippers, and died with only a few spasmodic contractions of the muscles.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT. Indianapolis, Sept. 19.—The execution of Louis Guetig took place at noon. He murdered Mary McGlew just one year ago to-day, because she refused to renew a marriage engagement with him which she had previously broken off on account of his habits of dissipation. He has had two trials and was sentenced to death both times. He has seemingly been indifferent to his fate, and only last night would he consent to the ministrations of the clergy. At 11:50, in mounting the scaffold, and during the proceedings he maintained a wonderful exhibition of nerve. He asked forgiveness of any he had wronged and announced himself ready to suffer the penalty of the law without complaint. He then turned and walked about the scaffold, shaking hands and bidding good bye to acquaintances, while he nodded and smiled to those he could not reach. Again turning he took his place on the trap, apparently with less feeling than those who were looking at him. As the bells were striking twelve, the drop fell, and in sixteen minutes, he—not yet twenty years old—was pronounced dead.

THE CRIME. A COOL BLOODIED MURDER. The crime for which Guetig was executed was the murder of a young woman named Mary McGlew, at the Spencer House, one year ago to-day. Guetig was a nephew of the landlord of the hotel and became infatuated with Mary McGlew, a servant at that place. She was a most virtuous and worthy girl. Guetig had become a habitual drinker and was a frequenter of houses of ill fame of the lowest degree. Several times he was removed from his position as clerk on account of being cross and surly to the guests of the hotel when under the influence of liquor. Miss McGlew is said to have used every endeavor to persuade him from

THE EVIL OF HIS WAYS, and at times he would reform, but only for a brief duration. He still continued his attentions to her, and they were engaged to be married, with the full consent of Mr. and Mrs. Guetig; but subsequently he became so notoriously dissipated that Miss McGlew, to retain her good name, was obliged to determine to have nothing to do with him. For a time he did better, and they once more became intimate. But during their separation a young man named Regdale, who was also a clerk in the house, began paying attention to Miss McGlew, and they became very friendly, in fact so much so that Guetig's jealousy was aroused, and he made

THREATS OF VENGEANCE against both of them. About the 1st of September, in accordance with his earnest solicitations and promises of reform, Miss McGlew promised him that she would have nothing more to do with Regdale, but would not promise to marry him. For a week he was on a prolonged spree; and on the fatal 19th of that month he was drunk and quarrelsome all day. About 9 o'clock that evening he went to the Spencer House and passed through it to a courtyard where Miss McGlew and two other girls—Addie McLaughlin and Katie Collins—were standing. He walked up to Mary and said: "Are you ready to make me the promise I've wanted so long?" and drew the revolver in a threatening manner. She cried out, "I promise you anything," when he began firing at her, emptying the five chambers of his revolver. The first shot took effect through her left cheek, when she fell on her knees immediately before him and entreated him to spare her. But, bent to her entreaties, he continued firing, the second ball entering her abdomen, the third severing her jugular vein, the fourth entering the thigh of Katie Collins, and the last shot going into the lifeless brain of Miss McGlew. Guetig was at once arrested. He assumed the air of a bravo and coolly declared, "I intended to kill her and I am glad I did it. I expect to be hung, and don't care a damn."

It is thought by many that he had previously formed the determination to kill Miss McGlew and then himself, but did not have the nerve to commit the suicide.

THE DEATH SENTENCE. A second time the case was carried to the supreme court, and on Thursday that tribunal affirmed the decision of the lower court, and left Guetig no hope. The defence on both trials was insanity, the result of epileptic fits.

The decision of the supreme court affirming Guetig's sentence, was rendered Thursday between 12 and 1 o'clock. Deputy Sheriff Charles Reynolds went into the jail and told Guetig of the final decision of the court. The doomed boy shrugged his shoulders, remarking, "Well, I suppose there is no help for it; I guess I'll have to stand it;" not showing the slightest symptoms of remorse.

He followed the sheriff into his cell where he was searched, and where he was confined under a close watch to prevent any evasion of the death penalty.

All day Thursday Guetig was in a state of hilarity, real or affected. In the morning he was visited by the priests, who tried in vain to impress him with a sense of his position. They told him that unless he gave up the VICE OF A PROSTITUTE, who has been constant in her attendance, he could not be attended by a Catholic priest or buried in a Catholic cemetery. He declined to give up the woman, although he said he wanted a priest to help him die.

To-day's Sporting Notes. Hopeful failed to win the special purse at Cedar Rapids, Ia., time 2:24, 2:23, 2:23.

The Louisville Jockey Club meet will begin to-morrow and last ten days. The great sweepstakes race, dash of one and one-eighth mile, in which Himey, Incommodore, Goodnight Dave, More, Lialuhun, A. Largent, Kern, Richard, Jr., and Fred Rice will start, is creating more interest even than the famous time races of Tenbrocke. With a good day and track there will be the fastest races ever run over the course. There has never been such an array of fine horses at a race track in America.

AFRICA. THE ZULUS. London, Sept. 19.—A correspondent at Capetown telegraphs that Cettywayo had twenty-three followers when he was captured.

A dispatch dated Capetown, Sept. 3, says operations against Chief Socoeni will be resumed.

Sir Garnet Wolseley goes to the Transvaal on the 5th inst., when all the troops will be withdrawn from Zululand, except a small column engaged in pacifying the northwest.

Two British residents remain in North and South Zululand.

A Durban correspondent reports that Cettywayo will be placed on board a gun boat, Forster at Dumford, which leaves with sealed orders.

A dispatch from Capetown says Sir Garnet Wolseley hopes that the chief of the Socoeni will yield without fighting, but those on the spot say this is doubtful, as it is known that the chief has lately only with difficulty been dissuaded, after five hours' counsel, from murdering two officers sent to treat with him concerning prisoners.

The details of the capture of King Cettywayo show that while the king was being watched on the side by Lord Gifford and some scouts Maj. Maister, with a detachment of first dragoons, approached him from the other, Lord Gifford, whose presence was unknown to the king, intended to defer an attack until nightfall, so as to prevent the King from escaping into the dense forest. But Cettywayo had caught a glimpse of the dragoons but thought that in consequence of the bad condition of the ground they could not approach quickly. Maj. Maister, however, directed the removal of all noisy accoutrements and sent a native contingent ahead. These surrounded the kraal where the king had taken refuge, and Maj. Maister then rode up and called to Cettywayo to come out of the hut. The king after some parley complied. He preserved a dignified demeanor, and asked to be shot.

GREAT BRITAIN. CRIMINAL. London, Sept. 19.—In the central criminal court the trial of the American charged with forgery, was concluded yesterday. Bingham was acquitted but Fortesque was convicted and sentenced to ten years penal servitude.

A SUNKEN SHIP. London, Sept. 19.—An iron shield has been successfully secured over the fracture in the side of the sunken iron clad Grosser Kurfurst, and she is now every probability of raising her.

DEBTS SPEAKS. London, Sept. 19.—Lord Derby, speaking at Southampton, recommended public and private economy for a time, as trade must infallibly revive when the English was not, like the continental powers, wholly occupied with armaments. The furtherance of emigration schemes, he said, was more likely than strikes to be useful in lessening the evils of bad trade.

MORE SPECIES. It is reported that eagles and hawks to the value of £1,000,000 are to be shipped to the United States on Saturday.

OFF FOR AMERICA. Liverpool, Sept. 19.—The steamer Lord Olive took out thirty engineers and machinists for Philadelphia from Bradford and that district.

An order has been received from a Philadelphia firm for the engagement of 100 riveters.

GERMANY. A COOL RECEPTION. Strasburg, Sept. 19.—Upon the entry into this city of the emperor of Germany the shops were closed and a multitude of houses closed their shutters. Only the official buildings were tastefully decorated. The German speaking inhabitants formed the bulk of the crowd in the street, though the French speaking element in Strasburg is still very strong. The French newspapers have become more outspoken concerning Alsace-Lorraine. The inhabitants have become much more estranged from Germany than they were two years ago when the Emperor visited Strasburg and met with a comparatively cordial reception.

CUBA. SLAVE RISING. New York, Sept. 19.—A dispatch has been received here from Havana to the effect that the slaves on the Cienfuegos in Cienfuegos, Cuba, have risen in rebellion against the Spaniards and have joined the patriots, taking with them a large proportion of their masters' cattle.

MASSACRE. There is great indignation in Cuba over the massacre of about seventeen officers who served in the last Cuban revolution on the patriot side, but have of late been residing in different places and following their different avocations. From their past records they were suspected of being in sympathy with the present revolution. Some were killed in their homes before their wives' and children's eyes by Spanish troops, and others were taken into the woods and slaughtered. The captain general is causing an investigation, and has cited the governors of Colon, Cienfuegos and Manzanillo to appear before him to explain the cause of these butcheries.

ITALY. FOUR NEW CARDINALS. Rome, Sept. 9.—At the consistory to-day the papal nuncios at Paris, Vienna, Madrid and Lisbon were created cardinals.

AUSTRO-HUNGARY. TROOPS WITHDRAWN. Pesth, Sept. 19.—A dispatch reports that the army now occupying Novi Bazar will be reduced by 2,000 in November.

THE INDIANS. A Five Hours Fight in New Mexico Between the Troops and 100 Savages.

Ten Soldiers Killed and Several Wounded—Pursuing the Red Skins.

Washington, Sept. 19.—The ordinance department has telegraphed the commandant of the arsenal at Fort Union, New Mexico, to issue arms and ammunition to Gov. Wallace, not to exceed 300 rifles and one million cartridges.

The following dispatch is from Col. Hatch at Santa Fe, N. M. I have just received the following from McEwers, near Hillsboro: We had a five hours fight with all of 100 Indians. We have ten killed and several wounded. All our work is gone. I have sent every available soldier out with Dawson and Day. I hear that they have killed and captured all the Indians and should be able shortly to overtake the Indians.

CRIME AND CASUALTY. DOUBLE FRATRICIDE. St. Louis, Sept. 19.—Advices from Taney county, in the southwestern part of this state, say that on Tuesday last two brothers named Burr and James Manns, living near Kirbyville, got into a quarrel about a cow, and Joseph shot and killed Burr, a younger brother. He then went home, procured a rifle and shot his brother James through the heart.

FIRE. Chicago, Sept. 19.—A fire yesterday and last night, nearly destroyed C. J. Hull's carriage factory on Bushnell street. Loss $18,000, partially insured.

A Serious Runaway. [Correspondence of the SENTINEL.] Cedarville, Sept. 19.—A serious runaway took place in Cedar Creek township on last Tuesday. E. M. Kloppenstein was riding to the residence of his brother-in-law and stopped on a crossing to read an advertisement. The horse threw his head around and caught the bit ring in the shaft, breaking it. The horse then ran away. When about fifteen rods distant two men tried to catch him, but he ran into a fence, fell down and broke his leg just

THE EXECUTION.
[Special Telegram to the SENTINEL.]

Indianapolis, Sept. 19.—Louis Guetig died on the gallows at noon for the murder of Mary McGlew one year ago to-day. During the night at times he was restless, but at 2 o'clock in the morning he threw off his nervousness, went to sleep, and slept till day.

At 10 o'clock his spiritual adviser went to his cell, and counselled with him, praying for his soul. At ten minutes before noon in company with his spiritual adviser, the sheriff and deputy and his brother George from Louisville he

ASCENDED THE SCAFFOLD in a careless and indifferent manner. Arising from prayer he stepped to the front, listened to the reading of the death warrant with great coolness, and to the question, "Have you anything to say before the execution?" drew from his pocket a manuscript and in a voice that would have done credit to a public speaker read a farewell declaring himself ready to die, after begging forgiveness from friends and foes. At noon the cap was drawn over his head and in sixteen minutes

SOUL WAS IN ETERNITY. He bid his friends a cordial good bye, shaking hands with many. He was dressed in a neat suit of black, with slippers, and died with only a few spasmodic contractions of the muscles.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.
[To the Associated Press.]

Indianapolis, Sept. 19.—The execution of Louis Guetig took place at noon. He murdered Mary McGlew just one year ago to-day, because she refused to renew a marriage engagement with him which she had previously broken off on account of his habits of dissipation. He has had two trials and was sentenced to death both times. He has seemingly been

INDIFFERENT TO HIS FATE, and only last night would he consent to the ministrations of the clergy. At 11.50, in mounting the scaffold, and during the proceedings he maintained a

WONDERFUL EXHIBITION OF NERVE. He asked forgiveness of any he had wronged and announced himself ready to suffer the penalty of the law without complaint. He then turned and walked about the scaffold, shaking hands and bidding good bye to acquaintances, while he

NODDED AND SMILED to those he could not reach. Again turning he took his place on the trap, apparently with less feeling than those who were looking at him. As the bells were striking twelve, the drop fell, and in sixteen minutes, he—not yet twenty years old—was pronounced dead.

THE CRIME.

A COLD BLOODED MURDER.

The crime for which Guetig was executed was the murder of a young woman named Mary McGlew, at the Spencer House, one year ago to-day. Guetig was a nephew of the landlord of the hotel and became infatuated with Mary McGlew, a servant at that place. She was a most

VIRTUOUS AND WORTHY GIRL. Guetig had become an habitual drinker and was a frequenter of houses of ill fame of the lowest degree. Several times he was removed from his position as clerk on account of being cross and surly to the guests of the hotel when under the influence of liquor. Miss McGlew is said to have used every endeavor to persuade him from

THE EVIL OF HIS WAYS, and at times he would reform, but only for a brief duration. He still continued his attentions to her, and they were engaged to be married, with the full consent of Mr. and Mrs. Guetig; but subsequently he became so notoriously dissipated that Miss McGlew, to retain her good name, was obliged to determine to have nothing more to do with him. For a time he did better, and they once more became intimate. But during their separation a young man named Ragsdale, who was also a clerk in the house, began paying attention to Miss McGlew, and they became very friendly, in fact so much so that Guetig's jealousy was aroused, and he made

THREATS OF VENGEANCE against both of them. About the 1st of September, in accordance with his earnest solicitations and promises of reform, Miss McGlew promised him that she would have nothing more to do with Ragsdale, but would not promise to marry him. For a week he was on a prolonged spree, and on the fatal 19th of that month he was drunk and quarrelsome all day. About 9 o'clock that evening he went to the Spencer House and passed through it to a courtyard where Miss McGlew and two other girls—Addie McLaughlin and Katie Collins—were standing. He walked up to Mary and said: "Are you ready to make me the promise I've wanted so long?" and drew the revolver in a threatening manner. She cried out, "I promise you anything," when he began firing at her, emptying the five chambers of his revolver. The first shot took effect through her left cheek, when she fell on her knees immediately before him and entreated him to spare her. But deaf to her entreaties, he continued firing, the second ball entering her abdomen, the third severing her jugular vein, the fourth entering the thigh of Katy Collins, and the last shot going into the lifeless brain of Miss McGlew.

Guetig was at once arrested. He assumed the air of a bravo and coolly declared, "I intended to kill her and I am glad I did it. I expect to be hung, and don't care a damn."

It is thought by many that he had previously formed the determination to kill Miss McGlew and then himself, but did not have the nerve to commit the suicide.

Guetig's first trial resulted in conviction, the death penalty being affixed. The defendant was sentenced to be hung on the 20th of last January, the same day on which Merriek and Achey were hanged. Two days previous to the day fixed for his death, the supreme court reversed the case and granted Guetig a new trial. The second trial, however, resulted just as the first one did, in a conviction, and

THE DEATH SENTENCE.

A second time the case was carried to the supreme court, and on Thursday that tribunal affirmed the decision of the lower court, and left Guetig no hope. The defence on both trials was insanity, the result of epileptic fits.

The decision of the supreme court affirming Guetig's sentence, was rendered Thursday between 12 and 1 o'clock. Deputy Sheriff Charles Reynolds went into the jail and told Guetig of the final decision of the court. The doomed boy shrugged his shoulders, remarking, "Well, I suppose there is no help for it; I guess I'll have to stand it," not showing the slightest

SYMPOMS OF REMORSE.

He followed the sheriff into his cell where he was searched, and where he was confined under a close watch to prevent any evasion of the death penalty.

All day Thursday Guetig was in a state of hilarity, real or affected. In the morning he was visited by the priests, who tried in vain to impress him with a sense of his position. They told him that unless he gave up the visits of a prostitute, who has been constant in her attendance, he could not be attended by a Catholic priest or buried in a Catholic cemetery. He declined to give up the woman, although he said he wanted a priest to help him die.

To-day's Sporting Notes.

Hopeful failed to win the special purse at Cedar Rapids, Ia., time 2:24, 2:23, 2:23.

The Louisville Jockey Club races will begin to-morrow and last ten days. The great sweepstakes race, dash of one and one-eighth mile, in which Himyah, Incommodore, Goodright, Dave Rose, Liahunah, A. Laventee, Kern Richard, Jr., and Fred Rice will start, is creating more interest even than the famous time races of Tenbroeck. With a good day and track there will be the fastest races ever run over the course. There has never been such an array of fine horses at a race track in America.

John McDonald, a mule thief, pleaded guilty to the charge in the circuit court at Madison last Wednesday morning, and was sentenced by Judge Allison to the penitentiary for ten years.

Deputy Collector M. Krebs seized an illicit still near Wheatland last Wednesday morning, and arrested John White. White was arrested for moonshining in Monroe county two years ago.

Robert Black, a son of H. B. Black, of Bainbridge, while attempting to climb a moving freight train last Tuesday evening, had his foot so terribly crushed that amputation was found necessary.

On Wednesday night, at Little York, a man named Geo. Toner called a man named Elisha Grimes out of church, and on his appearance began cutting him with a knife. There was no quarrel, and no one seems to know what it was for.

Conrad Pfennig, a German, sixty-eight years of age, living at Enchertown, committed suicide last Tuesday by shooting himself with a rifle. The ball penetrated the center of the forehead, completely tearing the inside of the head to pieces.

Wm. Lanar, the man who shot Flora Fleitz at Martinsville, last Monday night, was released from jail last Wednesday, no one filing an affidavit against him. It is probable that nothing more will be done as it is thought the shooting was justifiable.

Dr. A. C. Freeman, of Buena Vista, was arrested and jailed Tuesday night on a charge of having produced an abortion on the person of Miss Mary Weidman, a highly connected young lady of Paris Jennings county. Her seducer, Levi N. Whitcomb, is out on a bond of $1,000 charged as an accomplice.

The boot and shoe store of D. G. Graham, of Muncie, was closed last Wednesday morning by attachment proceedings of creditors. On investigation, many of the boxes were found empty, and the stock remaining is of but little value. Mr. Graham claims to have lost over $500 by burglars one night last week.

The tenth annual Indiana state convention of the Young Men's Christian Association assembled in the M. E. Church at Kokomo on Thursday. A very large representation from local associations throughout the state was in attendance. H. W. Johnson, of Michigan City, was chosen permanent chairman and Geo. B. Chamberlain, of Lafayette, secretary.

The fire-bugs are engaged on Terra Haute. Two fires occurred last Tuesday and one last Wednesday, causing a total loss of about $3,000. For the past six weeks fires have occurred almost daily, and in that length of time upwards of eighty stables have been burned down, besides other property, such as fences, sheds, out-houses, dwellings, carriages, horses, etc., aggregating about $20,000 on fair estimates. The city has only eight officers, and up to this time only two arrests have been made, and they were boys about ten years of age, who said they "did it for fun."

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

Boston, Sept. 18.—Another body was found early this morning at the scene of the Gold street horror, that of Rose Mereth, aged 16, found in one of the upper rooms. She died from suffocation. It is now stated definitely that only five persons perished at the Gold street fire.

Sherman, Tex., Sept. 18.—Julius Toetel, who went to a goods store, whetted a butcher knife and deliberately stabbed the Denison saloon keeper, Bronner, has been sentenced to be hanged November 13th. Toetel asserts his innocence. He is a Hessian by birth, and served in the United States regular army some years.

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—The Post-Dispatch has information that the steamer Hord, which left here last night for Walnut, below Memphis, struck an obstruction about forty miles below here and sunk in six feet of water. The cargo in the hold is badly damaged. The boat is owned by Capt. E. Porter and others, and is valued at $18,000; insured in Memphis companies.

Fall River, Sept. 18.—City Marshal Brigham announced to-night that the board of aldermen having refused to grant him any assistance, he determined to take the responsibility of increasing the force on himself as far as he has any power. Secretary Howard issued a card to-night offering the mayor and aldermen the whole force of 500 spinners, now on a strike, to act as special constables.

Carlisle, Pa., Sept. 18.—Yesterday W. H. Wynkoop and Mrs. Catharine Zell were arrested, charged with administering poison to Mary Rehl, an aged lady of this place who died suddenly last May. The body has been examined, and abundant evidence of arsenic found. To-day, in a hearing in her case, she was remanded to jail. Writs of habeas corpus have been sued out in both cases, and the matter will be heard by the court on Saturday.

Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, Sept. 18.—A Mexican named Flavers, and his wife Bernardine, came to the river without money, and the ferryman refused to carry them over. Flavers, who could swim, waded in the river and ordered his wife to swim also. He forced her to do so, and amid her cries and screams dragged her into the water. Finding that she could not swim Flavers plunged a sharp butcher knife into her breast and abdomen, literally ripping out her entrails. Her blood crimsoned the river. The ferryman pulled her out, and the murderer was arrested.

Yellow Fever Notes.

The New York Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions for the Memphis sufferers.

Vicksburg has raised the quarantine against New Orleans. Persons bringing clean bills of health and all freight, except woolen goods, packed in New Orleans will be allowed to enter the city.

Ten cases—six white—and six deaths were reported at Memphis, Thursday. The donations to the Howards were $433.33.

The Howards have sent a nurse to Bailey Station, Tenn., to attend Miss Louise Bedford, a niece of Julian Bedford, who, together with his son, died recently of fever at that station, which is twenty miles east of Memphis, on the Charleston Railroad. Absentees are officially against returning to Memphis at present.

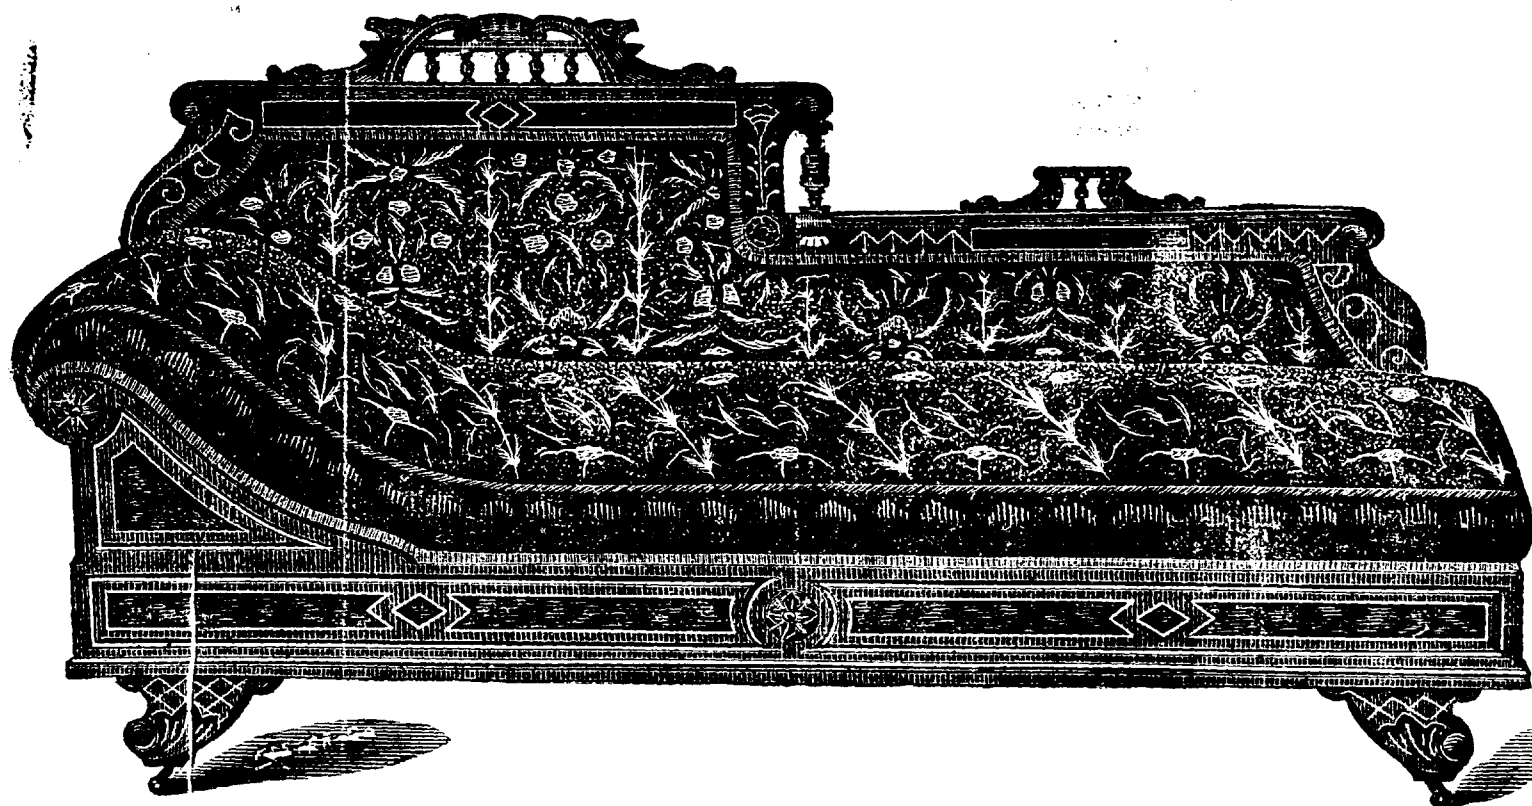

The Influence of Climate.

The influence of climate upon a constitution subjected to a trying change in atmospheric conditions, in water and in food, is often marked and disastrous. Disorders of the bowels and of the liver, frequently terminating fatally, are prone to attack the tourist by land or voyager by sea in unaccustomed latitudes—more particularly those near the equator. The best medicinal protection against irregularities of the bowels, stomach and liver, not only from the above, but whatever cause arising, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine in wide and increasing demand in sultry portions of this hemisphere, and also in the tropics. Travelers, emigrants, and country gentlemen, who are in the malarious districts use it very extensively as a safeguard.

It is an admitted fact that there are more diseases caused by drinking impure water than from any other source, and we do not know of any city where the water is as free from all impurities as it is desirable to have it. Rhens Natural Mineral Water is free from all foreign substances, it is also free from metallic poisons, thus rendering it perfectly pure and wholesome. It contains a large amount of mineral carbonates and is a natural and effective tonic. It is sold by druggists, grocers and liquor dealers generally.

BIG BRUTES

Commit a Dastardly Outrage Upon a Helpless Boy.

The Case Investigated at Police Court This Morning.

At the mayor's court this morning were arraigned Frank Daily and Wm. Thompson. The charge against them was assault and battery on the person of Charles Carpenter, this being the only charge under the state law upon which they could be reached for the nameless outrage which they were supposed to have committed.

Charlie is a bright looking boy about thirteen years old and stated that he ran away from home about two months ago. His father is a justice of the peace at Howard City, Mich., and Charlie says he only left because he wanted to see the world.

In his testimony regarding the case in question he stated that he could not identify either of the prisoners as being a party to the outrage, although he remembered seeing them in the car yesterday afternoon. The facts were that a party of seven boys, including Cheyenne Charley, Kokomo Jake, Chicago Jack, etc., became possessed of a gallon of whiskey, which they drank and forced the boy to drink until he was in a helpless state, and during this time perpetrated the outrage. The boy was physically in a horrible condition, and will experience the injurious effects for some time. The boy confessed that owing to his inebriation he could not tell positively whether or not "Shorty" was Thompson, was directly implicated or not. "Shorty" swore positively that he knew nothing of it, and Daily told a tolerably straight story. The whole party, including Charlie, were committed to jail for fifteen days for vagrancy to await further developments. In the meantime Charlie's father will be notified of his whereabouts, and he will be sent home in due time.

LOVER VS. FATHER.

A Little Game in Which the Former Won.

How a Charming Young Lady Played Her Cards.

On Wednesday night Mr. August Neff, an employee of John Draker's livery stable, was married to Miss Alice Hedges, daughter of Thomas J. Hedges, of the Pittsburgh shops. The ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. Draker. It was a case of "LOVE LAUGHING AT LOCKSMITHS."

It appears that Miss Hedges, who is a good looking young lady of about twenty summers, sometime since was engaged to a young man living near Huntington, and her father favored the match. The young lady, however, met Neff and was duly impressed with his charms; so much so that she lost no time in getting "off with the old love and on with the new."

There was an obstacle, however, to be overcome in the way of Mr. Hedges' opposition. He declared that Neff

"NEVER, NO NEVER should be his son-in-law. Miss Hedges declared just as emphatically, that Neff should be the son-in-law and as results proved she was right. Last week, being unable to obtain her father's consent to the marriage, she left the paternal roof and went to Mr. Draker's, where she remained until Wednesday night, when the marriage ceremony was performed, none of Miss Hedges' family attending the ceremony. In fact they did not know the date fixed for the nuptials.

THE BRIDE is said to be a charming young lady. She is a graduate of the Fort Wayne high school. On the day before the marriage she visited her parents' house after her wardrobe, but didn't succeed in getting it. The affair has created considerable gossip among the acquaintances of the principals, all of whom express the hope that Mr. Neff may prove worthy of the bride who braved paternal anger to marry him, and that the father's wrath may subside and a father's blessing be forthcoming in due time.

For the Benefit of the "Crank" Striking Himself "Justice." To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

In last evening's issue of the SENTINEL appears an article, "The Truth of History Vindicated." And in regard to that matter I wish to state to the public that the writer of said article is a notorious liar and scoundrel, which I will prove in a court of justice; then the public will know who is to blame, I or the "gang of young rascals" who tried to take my life.

After an interview with Bailey's father I had come to the conclusion to let the matter drop; but as "Justice" has taken up the gauntlet, I will do the same and prosecute the gang to the full extent of the law. Now let this "thing" ("Justice") write an article over his own signature and he will no doubt turn out to be one of the gang. Respectfully submitted, CHAS. YOUNG.

What Bishop Dwenger Says. Bishop Dwenger returned from South Bend this morning, and was called on by a SENTINEL reporter in regard to the statements published in the Cincinnati Enquirer and Chicago Times respecting his action in removing Father Hallman, of St. Mary's Church, at Lafayette, in opposition to the wishes of the congregation. The bishop stated that what he did he did regardless of newspaper criticism and on the matter in question he had nothing to say further than he would authorize the SENTINEL to say that the article in the Chicago Times relating to his action was a tissue of malicious lies.

LATE CITY NEWS.

A MOTHER'S LOVE.

Coming From Pennsylvania to Indiana to get Her Boy out of Prison.

The readers of the SENTINEL will remember the case of the boy Robert Dills, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year from the Allen criminal court at the last session. The boy's mother lives in Pennsylvania and but recently learned of the fact of her son's whereabouts. She at once had a petition drawn up asking for his pardon, which petition was signed by at least 500 persons. The petition was taken to the governor of Pennsylvania, who gave her a letter to Gov. Williams and she secured the signature of Judge Borden. Judge Borden says he signed the petition because he had good reason to believe that the boy was induced to commit the theft by his associates, who were tramps, and that the boy actually did not know the crime he was committing.

On her way from here to Indianapolis she had her pocket picked of her pocket-book containing a considerable sum of money.

She was loitering Muncie penniless, but meeting a railroad man at that place named Brinsley, she stated her case to him. He procured her supper and bought her a ticket to Indianapolis. Arriving there she again presented her petition. Pros. Atty. Hench this morning received a letter from Gov. Williams asking for a statement of the facts and a recommendation. He will forward the statement to-morrow and the probabilities are that the boy will be pardoned.

Apologues, one of the stolen articles, the coat, was found yesterday in a field near the city.
